Traction Wreck in Ohio in Many Years

4 KILLED, 27 INJURED

People Literally Torn to Pieces When Cars
Crashed Together

Only One Person Escaped Injury
---Accident Said to Be Due to Misunderstanding of Orders.

Piqua, Aug. 11.—Four persons were killed, three were probably fatally injured and 22 others sustained serious injuries last night when two trolley cars crashed together between Sidney and Piqua on one of the lines of the Western Ohio Traction company. The accident was due to a misunderstanding of orders.

All of those hurt have broken bones and were literally torn to pieces by splinters from the demolished cars. Many are so badly injured that even if they survive they will be maimed for life.

The Dead.

William Bailey, car inspector, of Piqua; legs cut off and skull crushed.
William McClellan, Lockington; skull crushed.
James Kehoe, Dayton, skull was crushed.

Fatally Injured.

Mrs. Charles Weidner, Piqua.
Henry C. Ernst, Dayton.
Mrs. C. Maurer, Piqua.
Howard Smith, Piqua, internally injured.

Only one man, P. F. Sarver of Sidney, escaped injury.

Twenty-five automobiles from Piqua and Sidney were rushed to the scene of the accident and conveyed the injured to a quickly improvised hospital at the Shelby county infirmary, and to their homes in that and this city.

The wife of George Hax, a grain dealer, expected her husband to meet her here, and as prostrated. News reached her that he is not killed, but would soon die. Hundreds of people waited eagerly at both traction stations for first news of the disaster, and here and there could be seen an anxious one who had some relative in the worst traction wreck in Ohio in years.

The cause of the wreck is given as a misunderstanding of orders as to the place the cars were to pass. The southbound car was 40 minutes late and was running rapidly.

The officials say there was a blunder—some one did not understand the running orders.

The passengers were startled by a cry of one of their fellow passengers. "My God, look at that light!" In another instant the two cars tore into each other. The light was the other traction car, coming at full speed. There was not a whole timber of either car left. The victims were all piled in a heap. A farmer was the first to the scene.

LEADERS ARE POURING INTO MR. BRYAN'S HOME CARRYING GOOD CHEER

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—The most important political conference, so far as the Democratic party is concerned, since the opening of the campaign, began this afternoon in Bryan's home and will continue until late tonight. In attendance are Bryan, Kern, National Chairman Mack, Vice National Chairman Hall of Lincoln, Joseph Daniels of North Carolina, John E. Lumb of Indiana, and several other members of the national and executive committees. Ways and means for handling the campaign are being discussed.

Lincoln, Aug. 11.—Every train that has reached Lincoln today has brought its full quota of Democrats to participate in the exercises in connection with the Bryan notification tomorrow and may have journeyed to Fairview to pay their respects to the candidate. Conferences galore have been held, Bryan especially insisting that several committeemen from doubtful states tell him exactly how the battle for votes is going in their localities. In nearly every instance the news has been favorable. National Chairman Mack and his party arrived today.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—From the lips of numerous callers from various parts of the country and letters received, William J. Bryan received gratifying reports of the political outlook as affecting his candidacy for the presidency. Altogether he had one of the busiest days since his nomination.

In addition to some traveling men, the visitors included Representative Henry Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on notification; Dr. J. W. McClure, of Sedalia, Mo., member of the committee; Rev. F. S. McGuire, of Osceola, Kan.; Henry George, Jr., of New York; Harvey W. Hardy, of Lincoln, an octogenarian, who intends to stump Erie and Wyoming counties, New York, for Bryan, a delegation of Christian Scientists from various parts of the country, and 300 members of the Epworth Guild, to whom Mr. Bryan made a brief address.

Knowledge of the fact that General Henry B. Douglas, of New York City, had organized a Bryan and Kern club composed of Southerners residing in the Empire state, brought unbounded pleasure to Mr. Bryan.

The information was contained in a letter received. General Douglas, who is a native of Maryland, commanded a brigade in General Lee's corps, to which Colonel Bryan's Third Nebraska regiment was attached. Mr. Bryan gave expression to his feelings in the matter by making the following statement, believing that General Douglas' action would be followed by Southerners in other Northern states.

"I am very much gratified to hear of it. We have a large number of Southern Democrats in the city of New York, and they have won prominence in all the departments of the city's activity. They have retained their love for fundamental Democratic principles and are in a position to contribute largely to the party's success in that state. I am more than pleased to hear of the organization of this club."

WORKS A NEW GRAFT.

Bryan, Aug. 11.—The latest grafter has made his appearance in Williams county. A stranger called on the housewives at Stryker and represented himself as the "official gasoline can painter for the state of Ohio." He did a landoffice business for several hours on the strength of the new law which goes into effect September 1, providing that all cans containing gasoline must be painted red and labeled. He used up a dozen cans of paint and in many places collected for his work as much as the cost of a new can.

IN PERIL

Is Republican State
Ticket in West Virginia

DEMOCRATS CONFIDENT

Taft Refuses to be Forced Into the Big Fight

Vorys Has Also Arrived from Ohio
With a Taste of Woe for Presidential Candidate.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 11.—Its bitterness increasing daily, the factional fight in West Virginia has now been transferred to this place, and the corridors and verandas of the Homestead are echoing with the conflicting claims of the Swisher and Scherr factions. A very manifest effort is being made to force Taft into this row over the governorship of the state, but he absolutely refuses to mix in.

The seriousness of the situation is explained by the fact that if the row is not settled before election day Taft not only will lose the electoral vote of West Virginia, but the state will pass almost irrevocably into Democratic hands.

The anti-negro plank in the Democratic state platform gives warning of the party's purpose to disfranchise the negro if it wins at the polls. A reapportionment of the congressional districts, of which all are now Republican, will come to the job and the Republicans will find it impossible for a generation at least to win back the state.

Realization of this has fanned the complex situation to a white heat and the next few days will witness some tremendous wire pulling here in the interests of rival gubernatorial candidates.

To be on the ground early, Swisher the Republican candidate, boarded the train which carried Taft and his party to Hot Springs. If Mr. Swisher hoped for a conference with the presidential nominee on the way over he was disappointed, for declining with thanks a special car which was placed at his service, Mr. Taft joined forces with the newspaper correspondents and the others of his party and paid the necessary fare to insure the sole use of a Pullman over to Hot Springs.

Upon his arrival here he found that United States Senator Elkins was already on the ground in the interest of Swisher. He went immediately to his rooms without seeing Elkins, who went into conference with Swisher.

Both are here today frequently conferring, but neither has seen Taft, so far, and the latter said emphatically that he had no appointment with either.

Scherr's lieutenants will be here in a day or two and the other West Virginia senator, Nathan Ray Scott, will arrive on Wednesday, when National Chairman Hitchcock will arrive, and the great pow-wow will begin.

If party regularity were the only thing to be considered Swisher would be recognized by the national committee without any question. He is the nominee of the regular Republicans, having had an undisputed majority of the delegates to the convention. Even had the forty-odd delegates whom Scherr declares were unfairly thrown out been seated the result would not have been changed. But the party split places the entire ticket in danger this fall, and delicate negotiations will be necessary to straighten out the tangle.

The simple truth is that neither candidate is of gubernatorial timber, and the best interests of the party would be served by the withdrawal of both. It is understood that Scherr was willing to consider this proposition, but Swisher having been nominated by a clear majority of the delegates positively refuses to listen to this plan, and is here now to demand of Taft and Hitchcock that he be recognized by the Republican national committee as the regular Republican candidate and be given the financial support that is necessary in West Virginia.

Mr. Taft intends to put the whole matter in Hitchcock's hands, and will abide by the decision the national chairman makes.

QUICK LUNCH BOY WHO IS HEIR TO $16,000,000

New York, Aug. 11.—Just what to do with $16,000,000 is a question Godfried Trost of No. 1,375 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, is trying to solve, and according to his own story it's no easy matter.

Godfried, who is known to his fellow workers as "Mike" because his real name is too long to pronounce, has ever since he left his home in Bavaria to come to this country, managed to make a fairly good livelihood by working as a waiter in banquets, and at present has risen to the position of coffee dispenser and errand boy in the Bijou quick lunch establishment, at No. 43 Smith street, for which he receives the largest salary he ever earned in his life, 75 cents a day.

To several newspaper men who called on him Godfried told the story of his good fortune.

"You see, it is this way. My mother's sister's husband's father's brother died about 12 years ago in Bombay, leaving an estate amounting to over $50,000,000. His name was candidate's ears almost paralleling the situation in West Virginia. Private advices from Ohio are to the effect that the action of the state central committee in deciding against inviting Senator Foraker to speak at the opening of the campaign at Youngstown, which was the only thing to do after all, has lighted anew the factional fires, and the retirement of Elmer Dover as secretary of the national committee, coming immediately on top of this, has added fuel to the flames.

Hitchcock comes here on Wednesday. He has the Ohio, the West Virginia and Indiana situation to go over with the candidate. Vorys will remain over to confer and both of them will stay here several days.

Number of Volumes Have Been Contributed, and Much Interest is Manifested.

Today was book day at the new city library, and while the rooms in the Auditorium building were not flooded with book donations, the librarian was highly pleased with the way some of the Newark people answered the appeal for books.

Quite a number of interesting volumes were brought in during the morning and in the afternoon more were contributed. The librarian, Miss Abby M. Gabriel, was on duty at the library all day and she greeted the many persons who called with their donations and explained to them the hopes and plans of the institution.

Of course the donations to the book stock can be made at any time, it not being confined to today only. It was hoped, however, that by having a feature of book day, greater interest would be aroused in the community.

The library will be open until 9 o'clock tonight, and any one having books can leave them at the library up until that hour.

Trouble Occurs in Lumber Camp in Alabama and Slayer Has Not Been Captured.

Decatur, Ala., Aug. 11.—Near Norton's Mill on the Tennessee river, below here, while Arthur Owens and Tommie Mayer were cutting timber they became engaged in a quarrel and a duel with axes resulted.

The head of Arthur Owens was severed from his body. His slayer, Meyer, fled and has not yet been captured. A bloody trail which Meyer left behind showed that he, too, had been, perhaps, seriously wounded.

Owens's body was still warm when found by other men in the employ of Norton's Mill.

Both axes, covered with blood, were found lying by the decapitated body. Both were young men and friends say Owens and Mayer were both in love with a popular young lady of the neighborhood, and that they called on her and quarreled at her home.

At that time, it is alleged, each swore that he would take the life of the other.

While no one witnessed the tragedy it is believed that the love for the same girl was the cause of the quarrel immediately before the fatal duel.

WALLACE
MORGAN

No. 1—The rich Miss Fluffy Ruffles had an awful shock one day, When she learned her splendid fortune was entirely swept away. But did she have hysterics, or throw a fainting fit? No, plucky Fluffy Ruffles was not that sort a bit.

No. 2—She took her big hat from the box, her boa from the shelf, And said, "I'll find some way by which I can support myself." She answered an advertisement, and managed to obtain Position as a governess to little Lulu Crane.

No. 3—Now pretty Fluffy Ruffles was exceeding fond of dress— (Of course she couldn't buy her clothes to be a governess!)— But she thought "I'll dress quite simply—in a little frock demure— This sweet white dimity will suit a governess, I'm sure."

No. 4—Now Fluffy in that dimity would drive a sane man mad; Or, leastwise, that's the way it seemed to little Lulu's Dad. He visited the schoolroom without the least excuse, And though Fluffy tried to stop him it wasn't any use.

No. 5—He came exceeding often, and he stayed exceeding long; He even paid her compliments, which was exceeding wrong. When Mrs. Crane discovered it, she put her foot down—so! She paid a full month's salary, and Fluffy had to go.

No. 6—Now pretty Fluffy Ruffles was never one to fret, And as she left the house she thought "I'm not discouraged yet! I'll buy an evening paper and find some other place." And then the smiles and dimples returned to Fluffy's face.

The total number of idle cars on July 22, according to the bulletin, was 208,680, an increase of 5,120 over the report of July 1. This is the first report since April 29 that an increase has been shown in the number of idle cars. The bulletin shows, however, that shop reports indicated a decrease of 3,000 in the number of bad order cars during the same period, so that the net increase in idle cars fit for service is reduced to 2,100. The bulletin says further: "Any marked improvement in the situation could hardly be looked for in July, which is normally a month of light business. The figures of 1907 show car surplus higher in July than in any period to the depression, which set in early in November."

There is plenty of room at the top, because so many who act there fall off.

BRYAN'S NOTIFICATION.

For the third time in his political career, W. J. Bryan will be notified on Wednesday of his nomination for the Presidency of the United States by the Democratic party. It will be the chief political event of the present week. The notification ceremonies will take place on the grounds of the state capitol at Lincoln, Neb., and will be attended by John W. Kern, Mr. Bryan's running mate; Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee; members of the notification committee and many other prominent Democrats. Congressman Henry D. Clayton, who was chairman of the convention at Denver which placed Mr. Bryan in nomination, will deliver the notification speech to which Mr. Bryan will respond in a speech setting forth the issues of the campaign. Mr. Bryan will give a dinner to the notification committee in the evening.

The Republican panic is not disappearing as rapidly as the newspapers and politicians of the party have been predicting and many are manifesting disappointment over the delay in the return of prosperity because it is not affording the campaign buncome that was expected to promote Taft's election.

Coslocion Times: "Better to give than to receive," is Lybarger's motto when it comes to the empty honor of passing around that congressional nomination.

The interstate commerce commission reports that during the first quarter of this year 728 passengers and employees were killed and 14,113 injured on American railroads. This record is bad enough, but it is the least sanguinary the roads have made in three years. There would be more cause for congratulation over the decrease in deaths and injuries if it could be proved that it was owing to additional precautions taken by railroad managers and to the greater carelessness of employees. Such a pleasing explanation is impossible. No doubt there has been some improvement in both those directions, but the chief reason for the better showing is the falling off in freight and passenger traffic which came on the heels of the panic. During the earlier part of last year the roads made desperate attempts to handle the business thrust upon them. They made every effort to push their freight trains along. Several accidents, with considerable loss of life, were directly due to the exertions made to keep freight moving. The enforced idleness of from 300,000 to 400,000 freight cars inevitably led to a reduction in the number of injuries to passengers and employees, particularly the latter. They are the men who figure conspicuously in the lists of dead and wounded.

RUMOR OF REMOVAL IS UNFOUNDED

Interurban Company Will Continue to Occupy Present Quarters on North Park Place.

A report has been in circulation in this city during the past two or three days that the electric railway company had leased the Brennan building on the corner of West Main and Fourth streets and occupied by the Stephan department store and the interurban station would be located there. An Advocate reporter called at the interurban station and saw the acting superintendent in regard to the matter. He said that he knew nothing of the matter, and that if the officials contemplated such a move it was news to him. The reporter then saw Mr. John Brennan. Mr. Brennan said there was absolutely no truth in the reports; that they had originated from the fact that Mr. Hamill and himself had made a proposition to Mr. Gibbs to occupy the new building to be erected by Mr. Hamill, but that the company had decided to remain in its present quarters.

Heap Little Man.

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]
Joe was a street gamin who joined us at the close of the civil war and marched with us to the Indian country. He was ragged and dirty and wicked—tougher than any bumster the war produced. We all tried to make him better, but failed. He was taken in hand by General Custer, but with no better luck.

Joe was allowed to hang out with us and make the long journey to Fort Leavenworth in our company. Some of the officers tried to bounce him, but we of the rank and file helped him to get through. He wasn't old enough to enlist, there was no show for him as a bugler, and when we finally started across the plains he was ordered to remain behind. We bade him goodbye, but three days afterward he overtook us, having a mule of his own. He was also armed with a serviceable revolver. The officers shut their eyes to his presence for three or four days, and then he was ordered back with some newspaper men and others. He then did a thing to show that he was utterly without fear. Instead of going back in company he went ahead all alone. For two days he kept ahead of the command and then rode back to report a force of Indians gathered to dispute our progress. He brought in an Indian arrow in his saddle and another in his mule's rump as proofs that he had been to the front. His information was acted on, and it was through it that we gave the Sioux a good tanning.

Joe's display of pluck made him solid, so to say. He was permitted to hang about camp, and the company tailor fixed him up a uniform. Thereafter he was one of us in a way, and he paid for his rations ten times over by serving the officers. When kindly spoken to there was nothing he wouldn't do to oblige. When ordered to do anything he was as stubborn as a mule. More than a dozen times he went on scouts all alone, and twice he brought in the ponies and weapons of Indians he killed. It was for this that the Kaw Indian scouts we had with us named him Heap Little Man. There wasn't a trooper in the brigade that wouldn't have contributed money to send the boy back east into good hands, but he wouldn't hear of it. He could neither read nor write, but he knew the value of silver and paper money and said that was enough for him.

The boy had a good voice for singing and had remembered the airs and words of a score of songs, but when out of camp and on the march he never sang but one song, and that only the chorus of "John Brown's Body." He'd sing that over and over until some of the officers came along and bade him hush. The rest of us might turn out for boots and saddles at midnight, cursing the weather and the order, but Joe would turn out singing that chorus. We'd go into a fight cheering, but he never cheered. Instead you'd hear his shrill voice piping—

"Glory, glory, hallelulah!
Glory, glory, hallelulah!
Glory, glory, hallelulah!
As we go marching on."

We tried to keep him out of the fights, but it was no use. He would disobey orders or break away from his guards, and when he mixed in he went straight to the front. He had a score to be proud of, but no one ever heard him brag. He fought because fighting was a part of his programme. When complimented on his bravery he gave no thanks in reply.

When we started on that winter Wichita campaign Joe was with us. We started out in a snowstorm, with the band playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and Heap Little Man singing the old chorus. Military history will tell you that the camps of the Indians along the Wichita were located before midnight and that Custer's command had to wait hours for breakfast. The snow was two feet deep and the night freezing cold, but every trooper had to dismount and stand by his horse. No moving—no talking. Joe stood next to me, and I do not think he shivered once. Over and over again in a whisper he sang his chorus and now and then let up to say that he hoped there were at least 5,000 Indians in the camp and that we should have a good fight of it. I don't think there was a man or officer there that night that took things as coolly as that kid. He was the first one mounted as the whispered order came along, and the band had scarcely struck up "Garry Owen" as we charged then he followed it with his slogan. We made a complete surprise, but the Indians rallied after a bit and put up a stiff defense. When it was over and we were ordered into line for roll call Joe was missed. His name was not on the roll, but we looked around in vain. Then he and others were sought for. The fight had raged up and down the stream for two miles, but we found Joe within half a mile of where the headquarters flag had been set up and where the fight had been the hottest. He was lying in the snow with his dead mule not far away. Around him were the dead bodies of three buck Indians and a squaw. The latter had a rifle in her hands and had fought as well as the men. Joe had three wounds and was dying, but had not lost consciousness. As we lifted him up he smiled and called us by name and asked how the fight had gone. Then his bloody lips parted, and, trying to wave his hand, he sang for the last time on earth, and he sang it to the tears of his comrades:

"Glory, glory, hallelulah!"

IT IS CREATING MUCH EXCITEMENT AT COLUMBUS

SCORES OF PEOPLE ARE PRAISING IT TO THE SKIES

The following article recently appeared in the Columbus Daily Republican: "The reporter has heard several of the leading doctors of our city say that Root Juice is certainly a great medicine, as a number of their patients after using it a short while for chronic stomach, liver and kidney troubles were rapidly improving. One broad minded doctor was heard to say in the presence of a number of people that he prescribed it to his wife for a chronic liver trouble and that the benefits she has derived from a short use of it is simply astonishing. The remedy is doing so much good here in Columbus that it is the common talk of the city. People from every walk of life are praising it and as a consequence the demand for the Juice is so great that it is hard to keep it in stock. The extraordinary merits of Root Juice have been proved by the experience of home people whose word can not be doubted. Those who have investigated have found every statement made in this paper in relation to the remedy as true as gospel. Scores of people are calling at the drug store daily and praising the great remedy to the skies for the wonderful good it is doing for themselves or some member of the family. Mr. F. Monroe, who is well known here said he had spent over four hundred dollars for medicine and treatment for his stomach trouble of long standing until benefit until he started out to take Root Juice, but that one bottle made such a change in his condition for the better that even his friends were not using it. Mr. Jesse Bennett said: 'Both my boy and self were badly afflicted with rheumatism when we commenced to take Root Juice. In fact, I was unable to get out of bed, but after using it a while we are now entirely relieved. I am now able to get around and attend to my work without a particle of soreness or pain, and my boy no longer complains; the remedy has certainly done wonders for us.' The Root Juice people are now at the City Drug Store, and have hundreds of testimonials from well known people all over the state. The remedy is beginning to create much talk here in Newark, as several that have been using it a few days are praising it very highly. We are told that a lady demonstrator will be in Newark all of this week to explain the remedy to lady callers."

DECISION IN THE SAN FRANCISCO COADJUTORSHIP POSTPONED.

CARDINAL GIBBONS
COPYRIGHTED BY M. KNOEDLER & CO.

BALTIMORE CATHEDRAL

ROME, Aug. 11.—At the meeting of the congregation of the propaganda today it was decided to postpone the decision in the San Francisco coadjutorship until the end of the month, at which time the question of a new bishop for the Cleveland diocese to succeed the late Bishop Horstmann will also be discussed. Today's developments in the San Francisco coadjutorship were said to be favorable to the Rev. Mr. Hanna. Cardinal Gibbons had hoped to have the American appointments made while he was in Rome, but today's postponement will make this impossible. The Cardinal is recovering nicely from his indisposition of the past few days.

anxious seat. Even when the locals had a lead of three runs, the spectators could not breathe with that degree of freedom that is so essential. They feared that something would happen that would put the home team on the blinkers. But it did not, for everything panned out just as had been hoped for. These many, many days.

But here is the game in detail: Pickney went out from third to first on a very fast play. Wratten flew to left, but Abbott beat out a short hit. He tried out Connolly's arm and was caught a city block. No runs.

The locals went out in order. Burke flying to right, Totman going to his death on a grounder to short and Nagle likewise. No runs.

In the second Locke went out second to first. Smith got a base on balls, but died on a steal. McClintock made himself solid with Manager Eells by singling to short, but Winters was nabbed at first when he hit one to second. No runs.

Spencer skied to first. Moeller went out short to first and Dooin whiffed. No runs.

Eells' life was spared by an error on the part of Ruh, but Mr. Webb hit into a double on the first ball pitched. Chubby Pickney ambled to first on four wide ones, but Wratten hoisted to short. No runs.

Ruh sat down when he knocked a roller to short. Connolly fanned and Crichton did likewise. No runs.

In the third Abbott doubled to right for a starter and stole third. Locke sent a fly to right and Abbott registered the first run of the game after the catch. Mr. Smith then singled, and McClintock got his second bingle. But Winters forced Smith and Eells whiffed. One run.

The locals were still mystified by Webb's benders. Burke going out third to short. Totman flying to second and Nagle to third. No runs.

For Newark Webb flew to short and Pickney went out on a weak grounder to short. Wratten cut in with a single to center, but he died stealing. No runs.

Webb still sat the locals down in order. Spencer grounding to Eells. Moeller flying to second and Dooin flying to center. No runs.

Abbott skied to Spencer. Locke fanned, much to his disgust, and Smith was nabbed on a pucky little grounder to short.

It was the sixth that the locals touched off the red fire and pin wheels. Ruh doubled to right for a starter, and the new catcher beat out a bunt. Crichton tried hard for a sacrifice, but bunted into the pitcher's hands. Burke fanned. But up steps old pinch hitter Hobbs, alias Mr. Totman, and he plinks a beauty to center, scoring Ruh and Connolly. Nagle then flew to right. Two runs.

For Newark, McClintock singled and stole second. Winters fouled out. Eells fanned again and Webb hit a little one to the pitcher. No runs.

The locals were not through, as can be seen by the following. Spencer started the inning by a little roller to first. Moeller then singled and Dooin not to be outdone did likewise. Moeller never stopping until he reached third. It was at this point that Ruh came to the front with a daisy two-bagger to right and Moeller and Dooin came across. Connolly went out third to first and Pickney robbed Crichton of a hit by nabbing his liner with one hand. Two runs.

The visitors threw quite a scare in due to the fact that he had the nerve to put the pellet over the pen and trust in his support.

The game was a beauty from any point of view. It was exciting from start to finish. Newark has a ball team all right. Don't force that statement, and there was never a time that the fans were not on the Totman was safe on the manager's error. Nagle flew to center and Spencer forced Totman. No runs.

To show that they were not "done" trying, the visitors proceeded to make a run in their last frame. McClintock got a base on balls for a starter, but he was immediately forced by Winters. Kaler was put in to bat for Eells and he in turn forced Winters, but took second on an overthrow of first by Ruh, and stole third a moment later. Webb singled and Kaler scored. Then fat and sassy Pickney skied to left and the game was over.

FOURTH

Place Dropped Into by Molders and Tigers Close Behind—Heller Out of Game.

Well, back to fourth place for ours. And to think that the homeless aggregation that plays under the name of Portsmouth should turn the trick. But they sure were due to take a game from somebody and the Molders happened to be the victims.

Pinkney covered the bag and played a nice game. True, he had an error, but maybe it wasn't his fault. McClintock, the young fellow who is holding the short field was there every minute. Three hits and five chances without a wobble is a pretty good day's work.

Young Jewell has rejoined the Mansfield team. This jumping a team is bad business and Benny came to in about the proper time. He claimed to have gone to Grand Rapids and upon his return to Mansfield he managed to square things up with Flood and Sturges.

Freddie Heller, the popular player of the Lancaster team is out of the game with a sprained ankle and Reynolds is holding down the left garden. According to the game yesterday Zeke is sort of a failure in Heller's place.

Mansfield is slowly creeping up towards us and unless we hit a winning streak before many more days have passed they will pass us. League race for just as present they are going at their best clip and they look dangerous.

The dope is going the rounds that Mansfield is looked upon as a possibility in the O. P. league. Possibly so, we repeat, possibly so, but still there are several things to prevent this happening. In fact there are too many reasons to mention.

The Elks are gradually getting the soreness out of their bodies that appeared after the game Sunday with Zanesville. The boys showed one thing conclusively and that is that they can play base ball. They have the material and all they need is practice. In Sunday's game the way they handled themselves surprised the people who saw them.

Today is book day at the library. A few books which you can easily spare will be greatly appreciated. Help the good cause along and show your interest in this institution. Open tonight until 9 o'clock.

DIRECTORS

HOLD LENGTHY SESSION MONDAY AFTERNOON THOUGH NOTHING IS DONE.

Do Not Think Molders Are Playing Up to the Standard and Releases Are Talked Of.

A prolonged and heated session of the directors of the local ball team was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Business Manager Murrath, but after several hours' argument absolutely nothing was done. No releases were named out and the meeting ended with as much accomplished as when it started. Most of the directors were present and they looked at the existing situation from every standpoint.

Many reports were circulated Sunday and Monday, but where they had their origin no one seems to know. Releases galore had been handed out and the shakeup that was to take place on the team was to leave very few of the originals left for the lineup. However, not one of the officials seemed to know anything about it and as a matter of fact when things simmered down Murray was the only one who had been released.

The reports that Quail had been released and that Bishelman had also felt the rattle of the tiwars were without truth although seemingly not without foundation. No releases were handed out according to the emphatic statement of President Carroll and Business Manager Murrath to the Advocate. Quail has not worked for some time on account of a sore arm, and Gygil came home Sunday, sick with malaria, and the arrival of these two men started the report that they had been released.

Another meeting of the directors will be held Saturday night and the business meeting that was called yesterday "on account of darkness," will again convene. The directors are disgusted with the article of ball put up by the Molders at the present time, and they are emphatic in their declarations that a shakeup might prove beneficial and to consider the many ways of bolstering up the team, the meeting will be called for Saturday night.

As an outcome of the meeting yesterday, President John J. Carroll tendered his resignation as chief officer of the ball club, but this was refused by the other members of the board, who think that the little differences can be patched up satisfactorily.

OWNERS

Of Ohio State League Will Carry the Portsmouth Club Until Home Can be Found.

Most of the club owners in the Ohio State league met in Columbus last night and considered the shoddering of the aggregation known this season as the Springfield and Portsmouth baseball clubs, and fathered by Edward Ransick of Cincinnati.

The club has had a steady losing streak and Ransick has turned from a person full of hopes of putting a winning team in a town that would not support baseball, to one discouraged and with the full conviction that some Ohio towns do not appreciate a ball team.

At least Ransick is through with Ohio State ball, for this season at least, and the meeting was called to see what could be done with the club. Portsmouth may yet take over the team, but for the present at least the league will support the wanderers until a home can be found for them.

WANT GAME

The manager of the base ball team of the Zanesville Eagles has written the sporting editor of the Advocate stating that he would like to arrange a game with the Newark Elks or the Newark Eagles. For further information address Ed. Nutter, 359 Putnam avenue, Zanesville.

A POOL LEAGUE

E. A. Pierce, well known Columbus pool player and parlor manager, is at work on a plan to organize an Ohio pool league. It is his idea to have the star players of a number of Ohio towns play out a season's schedule.

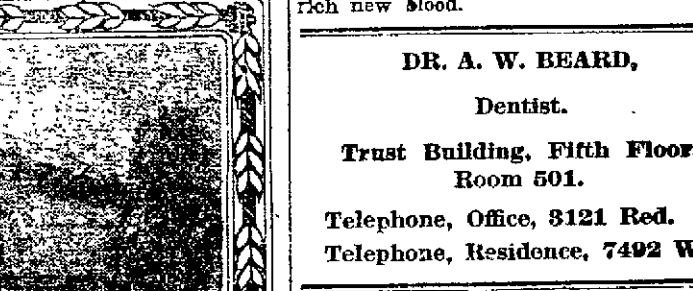

For instance, the Columbus man would play a match in Zanesville, while the Lancaster shark would be meeting the best player in Newark. Circleville's star would be at Marion. Springfield, Delaware, Chillicothe and London are mentioned as possible members of the league.

Pierce is ready to take out a franchise for Columbus. Seven other towns are wanted in Applications should be made to E. A. Pierce, 177 North High, Columbus. It is proposed to offer a handsome trophy to the winner, as well as a substantial cash prize.

REMARKABLE

Cure of Appendicitis Made by Prayer
at Mt. Vernon Camp Meeting —Minister's Wife Healed.

Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 11.—A most remarkable case of cure through prayer occurred at Camp Sychar on Sunday when Mrs. M. J. Harris of Evanston, Ill., arose from a bed of sickness after a most violent case of appendicitis completely cured and in a half hour's time gave her experience before a large audience in the auditorium.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Harris who is tenting at Sychar with her husband, J. M. Harris of Evanston, Ill., was taken suddenly ill and a physician was called in attendance. Her case was at once diagnosed as appendicitis and on Friday and Saturday she suffered much pain and on Saturday afternoon it was deemed advisable to remove the woman to the Mt. Vernon hospital for an operation.

At the service in the auditorium Saturday afternoon special prayers were said for Mrs. Harris' speedy recovery, at the same hour special prayers were said in the Harris tent.

Sunday morning Mrs. Harris awoke completely recovered. The pain which she suffered had entirely disappeared and she arose from her cot, dressed herself and appeared on the platform at the 8 o'clock service. She related her cure through prayer before a large congregation at this service.

At the other services during the day Mrs. Harris presided at the piano.

TRACTION WRECK

rescue He pulled a timber off a man's leg. The victim looked up and smiled.

"Have you a button hook?" he asked.

Then he roared with laughter. The farmer saw a great hole in his head.

Shortly after the wreck there was a score of farmers at work rescuing the victims. Fifteen automobiles bearing surgeons and nurses from Piqua were on the scene in 20 minutes. Only one man escaped injury. He is F. F. Sarvey, of Sidney, Ohio.

John J. Krill, a Cleveland traveling man, tells a graphic story of the tragedy.

"As we suddenly whirled around a curve, somebody yelled, 'My God, look at that light!'"

"The last word of the exclamation rose to a shriek of terror in unison for the thirty odd other passengers saw the death

messenger and recognized their plight instantly.

"Everybody made a rush for the rear door instantly. The crowd jammed into the door and waited for the crash. It came, and a hellish scene ensued. I was dazed and my ears were ringing.

Consciousness came to many. Others, stunned and bleeding, staggered through the gloom, as if to wrench themselves from the debris.

"I tried to shout. I guess I did, but I couldn't hear my own voice. Something seemed pushing and my ears, my throat filled. I believed for a moment I was dying, and sang back helplessly. When I recovered consciousness, I felt as if I had lived a lifetime.

Mrs. Edward Thompson, Columbus, suffered a sprained ankle and several bruises. She felt herself shot forward.

"I thought I landed on a bundle of rags.

I knew vaguely that I struck something benevolently soft. Then I knew no more.

I was roused sometime after by a woman screaming pitifully somewhere near me.

When I could regain my senses I discovered that I was pinned down in the wreckage and jammed, closely on top of a very fleshy woman.

Heavy damage suits are said to already be threatened. Chief Train Dispatcher C. V. Tedrow of Tippecanoe

City, was on the ill-fated north bound car when the accident occurred, and is positive that the orders were clear to pass at Stop No. 70.

A telephone dispatch system is used and no written orders are given.

Columbus, Aug. 11.—Members of the State Railroad Commission will leave

Wednesday for Piqua, where on Thursday they will investigate the accident of

Monday evening on the Western Ohio

Traction line. The railway company has been instructed to have witnesses ready to be heard.

COSHOCTON DAY

AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Wednesday will be Coshocton Day

at Buckeye Lake Park and it is expected that the entire population of the city will be at the lake, as arrangements have been made for the entertainment of over 4,000 visitors.

The excursionists will be transported to the lake in four big trains and will arrive here at 7, 7:30, 8 and 8:30 a. m.

and returning will leave at 6, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock. It is expected that the biggest crowd of the season will be at the lake Wednesday.

YOUNG LADIES

CREMATED IN

WHEELING FIRE

Had Frequently Visited in This City

Where They Had Large Circle of Friends.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 11.—Three women were burned to death here

early today when a gas explosion wrecked the dry goods store of J. V.

Gavin.

The dead:

Clara Gavin, aged 20.

Mamie Gavin, aged 22.

Margaret Gavin, aged 25.

The mother of the three sisters narrowly escaped death by leaping from the third floor window onto an awning, from which she fell to the ground. Before the firemen arrived the roof of the building fell in and the three bodies were cremated.

The above dispatch from Wheeling will be a terrible shock to the many friends of the Misses Gavin, who have frequently visited in this city. Only a couple of months ago Miss Clara was the guest of Miss Carrie Weisger-ber, at her home on First street, adjoining the Sherwood.

Mrs. Susan Carpenter and daughter

Agnes of Wheeling, who were visiting in this city, and who are warm friends of the Gavins, living across the street from them, received a telegram this morning informing them of the terrible catastrophe. They immediately packed their baggage and started for Wheeling.

The Misses Gavin are said to have been girls of a lovable disposition and their untimely and terrible death has cast a gloom over their large circle of acquaintances here as well as in their home city.

PRETTY ROMANCE HAS HAPPY TERMINATION

Results in Wedding of Mr. Fred J. Siegel of Granville and Miss Elizabeth Mitchell.

Granville, O., Aug. 11.—The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Fred J. Siegel, a prominent business man of Granville, who formerly lived in Newark, to Miss Elizabeth Mitchell, a trained nurse employed at the Protestant Hospital, Columbus, came as a great surprise to the many friends of Mr. Siegel. With the marriage of Mr. Siegel and Miss Mitchell quite a pretty little romance is connected. During the early part of last February, Mr. Siegel took his little daughter, Mabel, to Columbus, to be operated on for hernia at the Protestant hospital. During the time the little girl was in the hospital, Mr. Siegel visited the hospital a number of times and became acquainted with the nurse who had charge of his daughter. Her gentle ministrations and motherly love for the child attracted the attention of Mr. Siegel, and they soon became fast friends. This friendship quickly ripened into love and they concluded to get married. Miss Mitchell's parents have been dead for several years, but she still claims Charleston, Ind., as her home. They procured a marriage license in Jeffersonville, and went from there to Indianapolis, where they were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. L. A. Morrison. The marriage service was performed in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties after which the young couple returned to Columbus, where they visited at the home of another sister for two or three days, when they returned to Granville.

Mr. Roy Comstock, manager of the Princess theater, of that city.

The news of Miss Place's marriage came as a great surprise to her relatives and friends, as the couple had not acquainted them with the facts. Mrs. Comstock, who is well known in Newark, where she had been engaged for some time singing in local theaters, left here for Cleveland several months ago to accept a similar position with the Princess, one of the city's principal vaudeville and moving picture shows, and where she first met the gentleman who wooed and won her as his wife.

At present Mrs. Comstock is creating a furore in the Forest City at her husband's theater by appearing in a singing act costumed with Directoire and sheath gowns and Parisian hats, especially designed by a well known New York modiste for the former Newark lady. She is billed as "La Petite Aldie," and she is said to be very clever and the only act of the kind in Cleveland.

The numerous friends of Mrs. Comstock in this city will extend congratulations to the newly wedded couple

For nearly forty years New Discovery has stood at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventive of pneumonia, and healer of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at F. D. ## MORE ABOUT WATER

Do you say you are boiling your drinking water? Very good. Boiled microbes are less harmful possibly, but scarcely more appetizing, are they? Then you know you boiled the revivifying element all off and you are drinking dead matter that is clogging instead of cleansing your system. Then don't forget the decomposition of those same germs, and the beautiful breeding ground formed thereby for myriad hosts more of the same character. Bottle some of the boiled water and set it away. Set a bottle of Chalybeate Spring Water by the side of it. Then after awhile go see what you have. You can leave it a few hours or a few weeks and the difference will become more apparent with each day.

Chalybeate Spring Water is pure. It is alive. It is healthful. You can't possibly make a mistake by drinking it exclusively. We deliver samples free. Ask for some.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.

Last night the Auditorium was crowded again to see the moving pictures. After two weeks of talking pictures the house resumed its old style of pictures, vaudeville and songs. Some very interesting films are shown for the first half of the week and Tulsa, a very pretty young lady, won her way into the hearts of her audience at her first appearance. She gave three character songs in costume, a Japanese maiden, a cowboy girl, and an Indian maiden. All pictures change Thursday. Matinees are given daily. The Auditorium has in preparation a great surprise in the way of moving pictures which will be given the public soon.

HUMANFOTO PICTURES.

The humanfoto talking pictures at the Grand continue to draw large and appreciative audiences. The talkers for the first part of the week are "Rescued From the Eagle's Nest," and "In a difficult position." They are full of mirth and pathos and bring tears and laughter alike.

The last half of the week beginning Thursday promises to be an interesting program as there will be new talking pictures and other new features. The special for tonight will be "A Boy's Persuasion," rendered by Chester Woodruff Rush.

Mr. Rush is making a great success in personations and character work in Lyceum circles. His work is both entertaining and instructive.

IDLEWILDE CASINO.

The Jackson Stock company headed by Miss Isabel Jackson, pleased a fair sized audience at Idlewilde park Monday evening when they presented "The Senator's Wife." The company is a strong one and the bill of last night is a fair representation of what is in store for the amusement lovers who have been attending the shows at the Idlewilde casino. Miss Jackson and Mr. Hevener pleased the audience by their excellent interpretation of their respective parts and both showed that they were actors of ability. The supporting company is better than the usual run of summer stock.

Tonight they will play "Last and Won, or the Fatal Wedding," a thrilling melodrama. Wednesday matinee and night the bill will be "The Country Girl," in which Miss Jackson is said to be particularly pleasing. The features of the next week's bill will be "Camille" and "Zira," and Mr. Levin the manager, says both these bills will make the Newark people sit up and take notice.

Hearing Continued.

The proposition to annex certain territory to the village of Hebron, which has been up before the county commissioners for several days, has been continued until Wednesday, at which time the commissioners will view the grounds.

JOSEPH THRAPP IS CAPTURED IN SPRINGFIELD

Wanted Here on Charge of Cutting With Intent to Kill in Red Light District.

Joseph Thrapp, a well known character in police circles, wanted here on a charge of cutting to kill, was arrested Monday night in Springfield according to advices received at the office of Chief Ziegler this morning. Thrapp is wanted here on a charge of cutting Charles ("Red") Conolley, with intent to kill. The trouble occurred last March in the Red Light district when the two had an altercation. Thrapp is said to have drawn a knife and slashed Conolley several times. An officer will be sent to Springfield today to bring the prisoner back to Newark.

You can do a great deal towards the success of the Newark library by sending a few books which you can easily spare. Books came in rapidly Tuesday but there is still room for more on the shelves. Bring them down this evening. The library rooms will be open until 9 o'clock.

WOMAN'S POWER

The healthy woman; strong mentally and physically, whose ambition and magnetic influence urge men to deeds of grandeur and heroism; such women are all-powerful.

Weak, sick and ailing women have little ambition; their own troubles occupy all their thoughts. They dwell upon their pains, suffer from nervousness and headaches; often are extremely melancholy, and avoid society. For thirty years has been saving women from this awful condition. Mrs. Louise Juch, of 332 Chestnut St., Detroit, Mich., writes:

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"I suffered from a very severe female weakness for a long time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, restored my health. I hope it will do other women as much good as it has me."

Mrs. Emma Wheaton, of Vienna, W. Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a walking shadow. My husband insisted upon my writing to you and trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. It relieved all my pains and misery, and made me a very different woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

NEWARK WOMEN WOULD LIKE TO MAKE FLIGHT

Have Petitioned Roy Knabenshue for a Place in His Airship During State Fair.

Roy Knabenshue, the Toledo aeronaut, and his big airship is to be one of the principal attractions of the coming State Fair, and will carry a limited number of passengers, frequently soaring above the clouds. Already 34 persons, 16 women and girls, and 18 men, have signified a desire to take a flight in the air, and not one of them has asked for a guaranty of coming down gradually instead of all at once.

Among those who have written asking for the privilege of "going up in a balloon," are two alleged Newark women, Mrs. L. E. H. Williams and Miss E. Reichet. As the names of these women cannot be found in the Newark directory, the supposition is that they are fictitious. There are plenty of women in Newark, however, who would make the ascent if they were offered the chance.

BRYAN'S NOTIFICATION

Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has taken part in a political fight. It is very significant.

In his opinion trade unions were more in politics in the present campaign than he ever knew them before, "and that," he said, "is saying a great deal."

There were conditions, he remarked, such as hard times and labor injunctions, that had aroused the laboring men to action.

In the course of his lectures in Kansas and Nebraska Mr. George, in order to test the temper of his audiences on the political situation, casually mentioned the name of Mr. Bryan. He told the Democratic nominee that if the enthusiasm displayed was any indication of the true feeling toward him, those states were surely Democratic.

The members of the notification committee are rapidly coming in. Today important conferences by the Democratic managers are being held in Lincoln.

Dr. McClure assured the Democratic nominee that Missouri was safe for him. "The people want a change," declared Dr. McClure after leaving the Bryan home. "They are tired of the condition of things, and so far as Missouri is concerned they don't understand why under a Republican administration we should have such times as there are now."

Mr. Bryan was much interested in a statement of Dr. McClure that a union band of Sedalia had received instructions from headquarters to vote for himself and Mr. Kern.

Further information regarding the sentiment of certain sections of the country was imparted by Rev. S. D. McGuire, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Osceola, Kan. Dr. McGuire has traveled through Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

Both his father and himself, he said always had voted the Republican ticket, but that this fall they would vote for Bryan. He had talked with many Republicans in the four states, and stated that a large majority of them were clamoring for a change.

The rural people in particular, said Dr. McGuire, will come out strongly for the Democratic candidate. "I have special reasons for knowing that is true," he declared.

The tariff speech of Mr. Bryan, to be delivered at Des Moines, Iowa, on August 21, was yesterday sent to the printer, and the Democratic candidate for president immediately began work on his speech on the trusts, which he will make at Indianapolis upon the occasion of the notification of John W. Kern.
